

A Journey into Love

Co create the next realm of your relationship

A four day experience for couples who want the next level of love

This is not a typical workshop. It is a guided passage. A space to remember why you chose each other, and choose each other again with more presence, devotion, and commitment. Through daily embodiment, nervous system reset, guided dialogue, quiet integration, and masculine and feminine polarity practices, you'll move beyond roles and repeating patterns.

This experience is for couples ready to deepen, not fix. To evolve together. To move from good to great. From managing the relationship to truly meeting each other. Not for couples in active crisis. Not for anyone being dragged into this. Both partners need to be willing.

You will leave with: Renewed intimacy and emotional clarity, Clearer communication, Rebuilt trust, Renewed attraction and desire, Practices you can use at home.

Meet the Facilitators

Peter and Eva are partners in life and love. Their relationship is built on truth, intimacy, and ongoing growth. They have lived many cycles. Success. Loss. Renewal. That is why their work lands.

They practice what they teach. Clean communication. Conscious touch. Simple rituals. Intentional silence. Fast repair.

Eva

She is an embodied intimacy and relationship guide with over 18 years of experience. She blends somatic practice, trauma informed work, tantra, breathwork, and shadow work. Her gift is helping couples slow down, feel what is real, and shift patterns at the nervous system level, not just in conversation.

Peter

He is a seasoned entrepreneur, CEO, and advisor with four decades of experience leading through high stakes decisions in boardrooms and public markets. He brings strategic thinking, emotional intelligence, and embodied leadership into everything he does. He has studied with and completed advanced training with David Deida, John Wineland, and Eli Buren. He leads with grounded presence, warmth, and depth.
